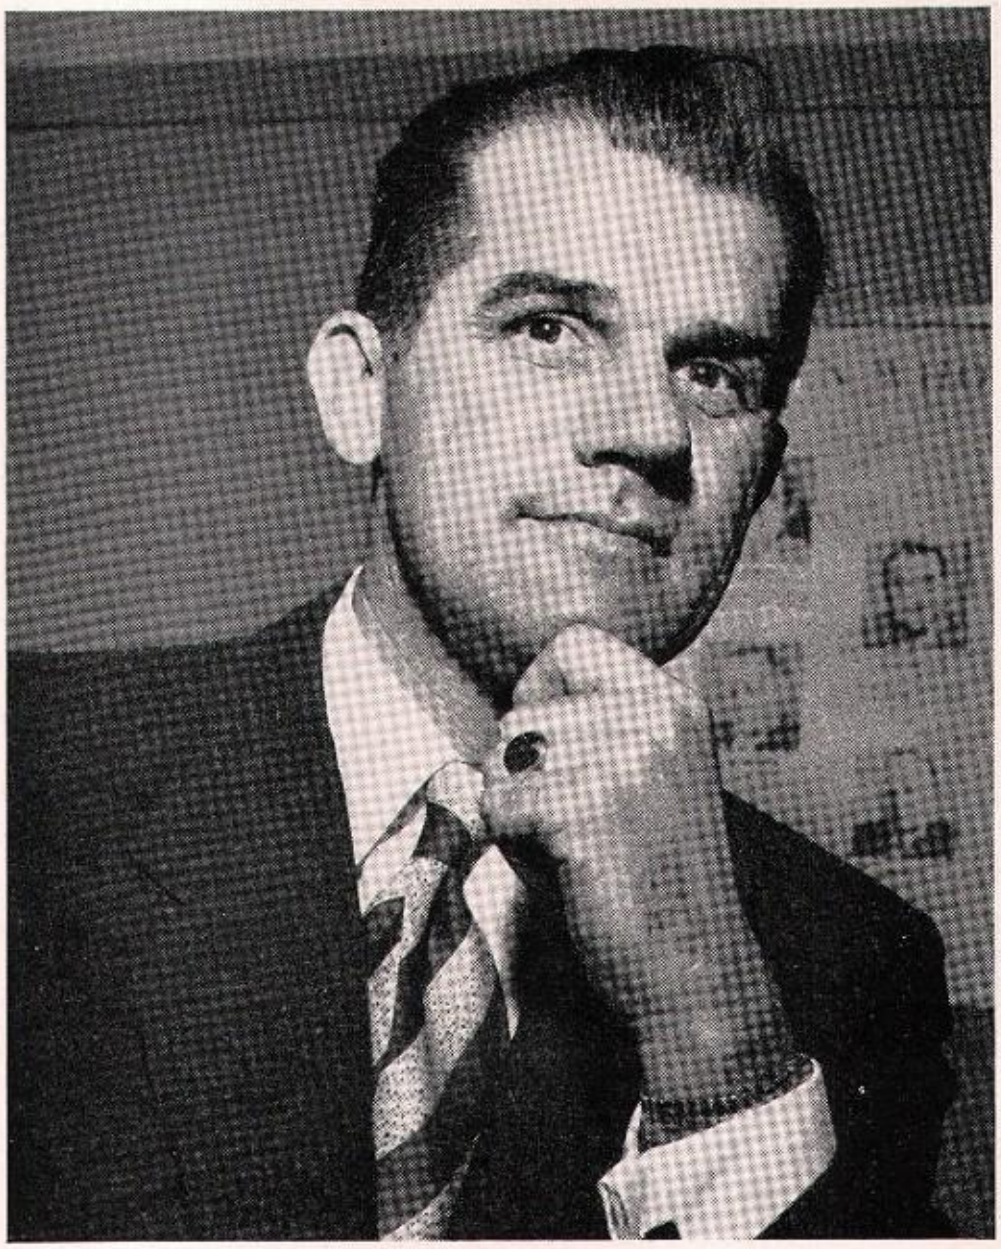
A YEAR

WE DEDIC



Senior Problems classes have no problems with Mr. Annand as teacher.

To you, Mr. Annand, we wish to dedicate our 1954 DEL-AÑO. We felt that in this year of building memories and material values, you have been an important guide and inspiration.

Not only have you given the seniors a year of knowledge edged with fun, but to every other class and fellow teacher, you have given of your time, your help and your sense of humor.

To the seniors who are leaving you will be remembered often as they scatter and meet those problems which you tried to prepare them for. To those who will some day be seniors you are the man who will guide their way through that last important year.

Your past record of four years in the Army, and this your seventh year of teaching give further evidence of your ability and success.

Our book is yours!

Story time for the little ones keeps Judy busy as she baby sits. It must be a good story.

These future farmers take time out from Ag. work to construct the fence around the new baseball field.

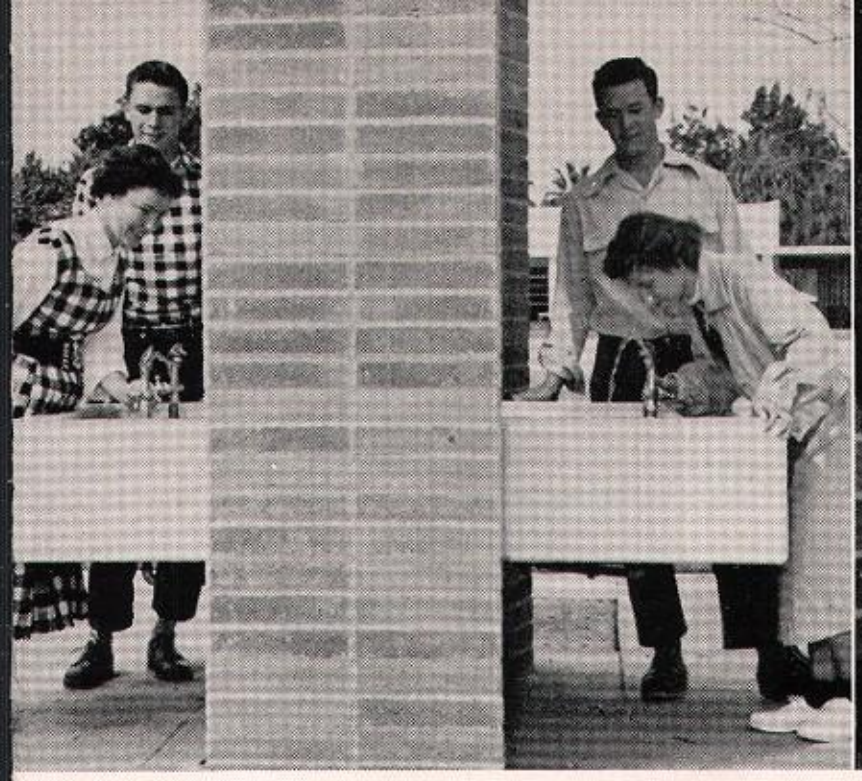
Keeping Up With Pastimes, Fa

Moments other than routine study and classroom work go into the building of a year for Delano High students. Our theme, "We Build a Year," is situated around this idea. The fads, styles, good times, and work are all a part of their lives. Of the many jobs that are undertaken by students, baby sitting is popular with the girls. Farming and other outdoor jobs are done by the boys in their spare moments.

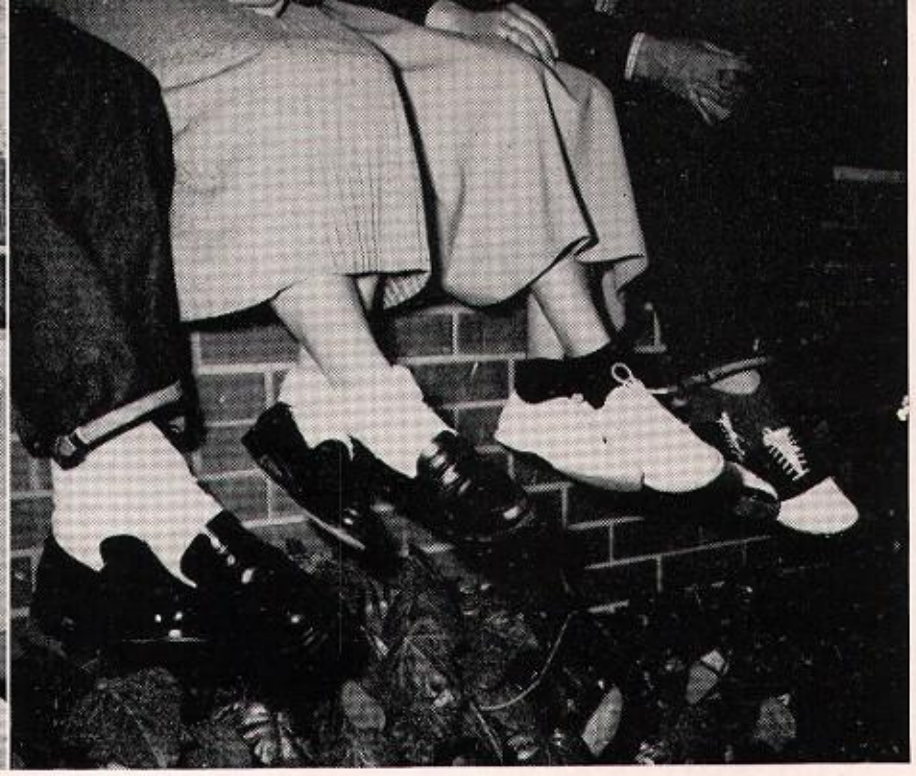
Dating, both formal and casual, is popular with the students. On the average, they have two dates a week which take in movies, dances and sports. Many of the steady couples may be spotted anytime by their outfits made to match.

Diane and Bill have a serious discussion on dating problems. They're too far apart to really argue.

Bound for the Christmas formal is Betty Jo with her pretty formal, corsage and welcoming smile for Doug.



The twin fountains complement the twin outfits of steadies Barbara Blair and Galen, and Barbara Grogan and Raymond.



Girls' styles in shoes are a close match to the boys'. Competition is stiff—who keeps them the shiniest?

ds is a Job in Building a Year

Some of the shoes this year are found to be very similar in the styles of both the girls and boys, as are the suede and leather jackets which are numerous on the campus. Leather goods such as belts and purses are often seen; the major part of them are made by the students in their crafts classes.

The girls' three main hair styles are from one extreme to the other. There is the short "duck tail" cut to the flowing length, although the medium length is the most popular. With these hair styles the girls wear many odd but pretty earrings which complete their outfits for the year.

From short to long go the favorite hair styles of Delano girls. Unusual earrings fit in with any length.

With Christmas came an increase in smart leather and suede jackets and handmade leather purses and belts.

FFA boys having raised and butchered beef, are now preparing it for the PTA barbecue held April 30.

Many people are waiting patiently for the delicious barbecued beef being served in the park.

Queen Norma and King Ray with attendants Adele, Colby, Ila, and John ruled over the Spring Musical Festival, May 21.

Parents are getting their kicks visiting Delano High's Open House, April 30.

any in Spring '53

Bringing back to our minds the memories of Spring '53 are the strains of music from the Spring Musical Festival and the royal party headed by Norma and Ray.

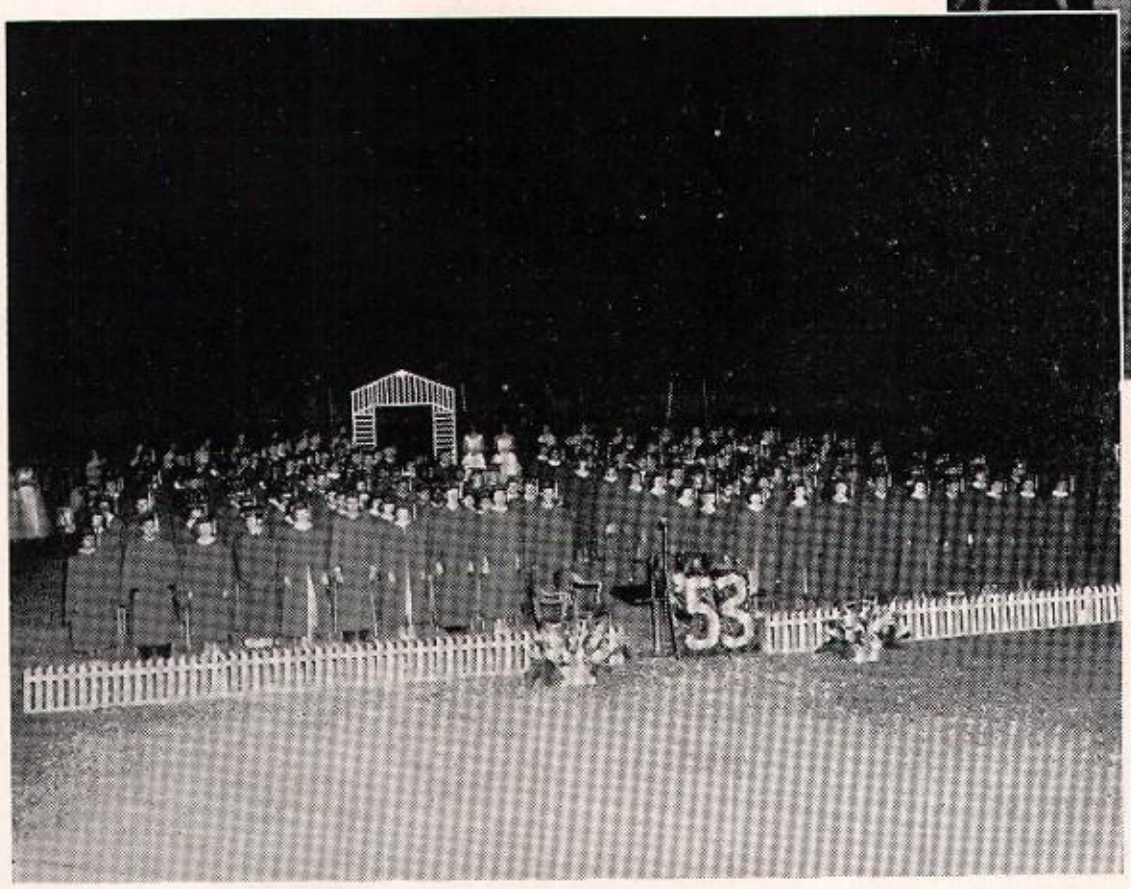
The noises and the fun and the smell of popcorn and tacos at the carnival mingle in our minds with the taste and smell of freshly barbecued beef at the PTA Barbecue which was a great success marked by empty plates. Open House followed the barbecue and parents had a chance to go back to school.

The "Enchanted Isle" prom was a dreamy farewell for the classes of '53, and June 9 brought the long awaited moment for 200 seniors.

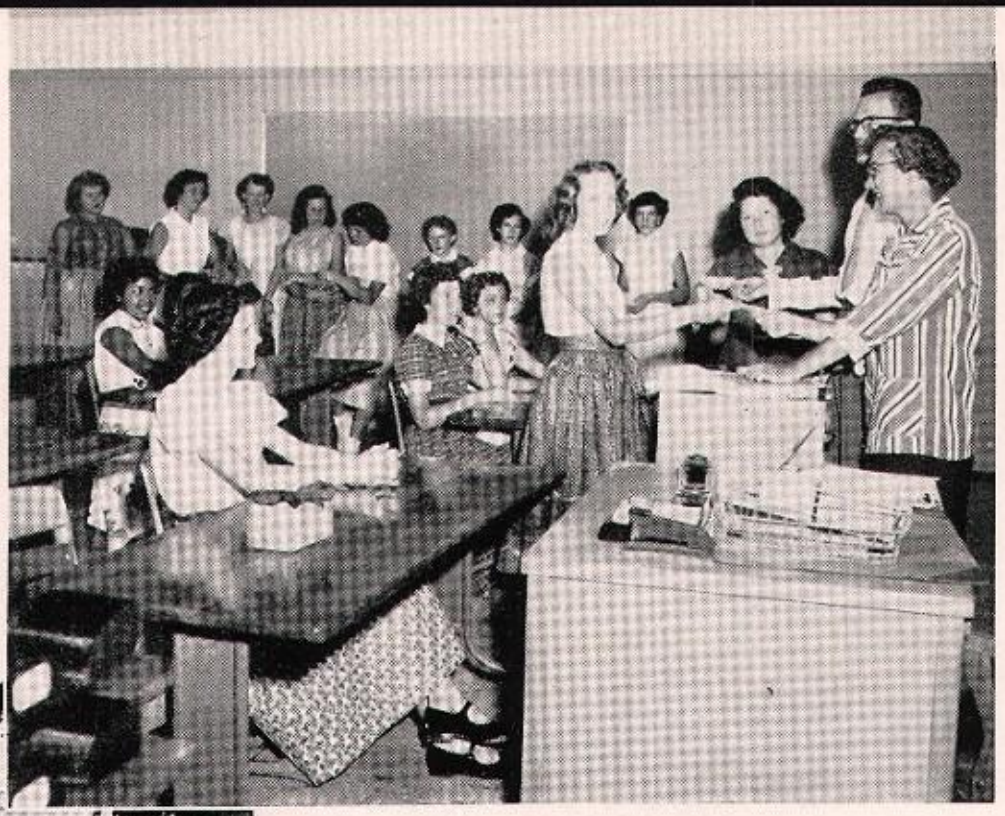
Larry is attempting to win a prize in one of the many booths at the Annual School Carnival.

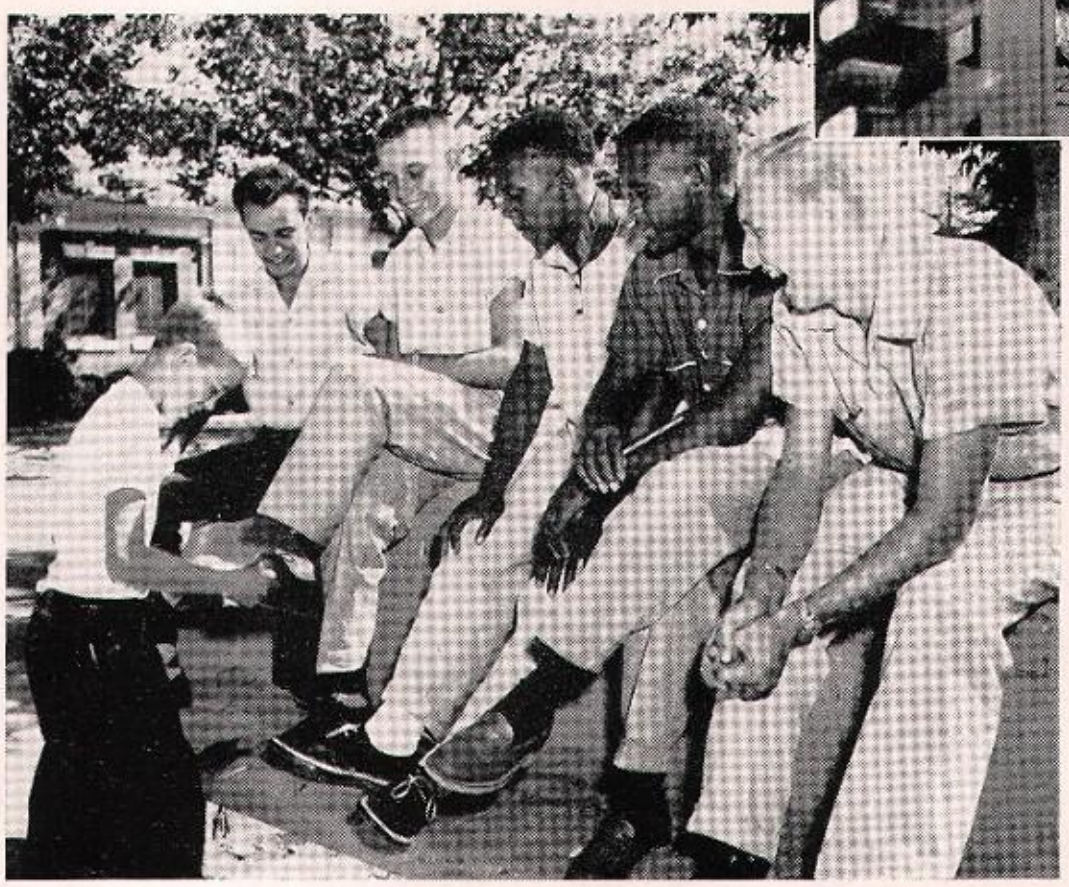
"Enchanted Isle," a tropical themed prom, was held May 2.

200 Delano High seniors were presented their diplomas in the June 9 graduation ceremonies, below.



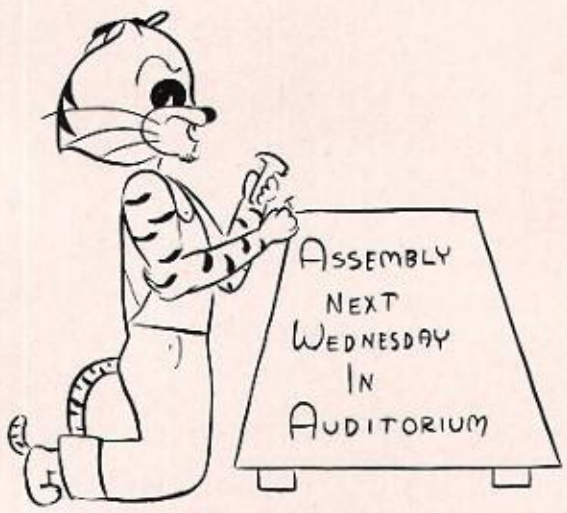
Unknowing freshmen receive their program cards the day before classes begin from Miss Salber and Mr. Possley.





Around the first of the year, freshmen boys are very busy shining the shoes of the masterful senior boys.

Fall Events



Delano High featured the Lamp of Learning in the Harvest Holidays Parade last October 10.

Students gather around the Ronald Rounds Memorial Fountain which was officially dedicated last fall.

Theme of the 1954 DEL-ANO is revealed at the DEL-ANO sales campaign assembly held in middle October.

Something new at the school carnival this year was the greased pig scramble which was enjoyed by all.

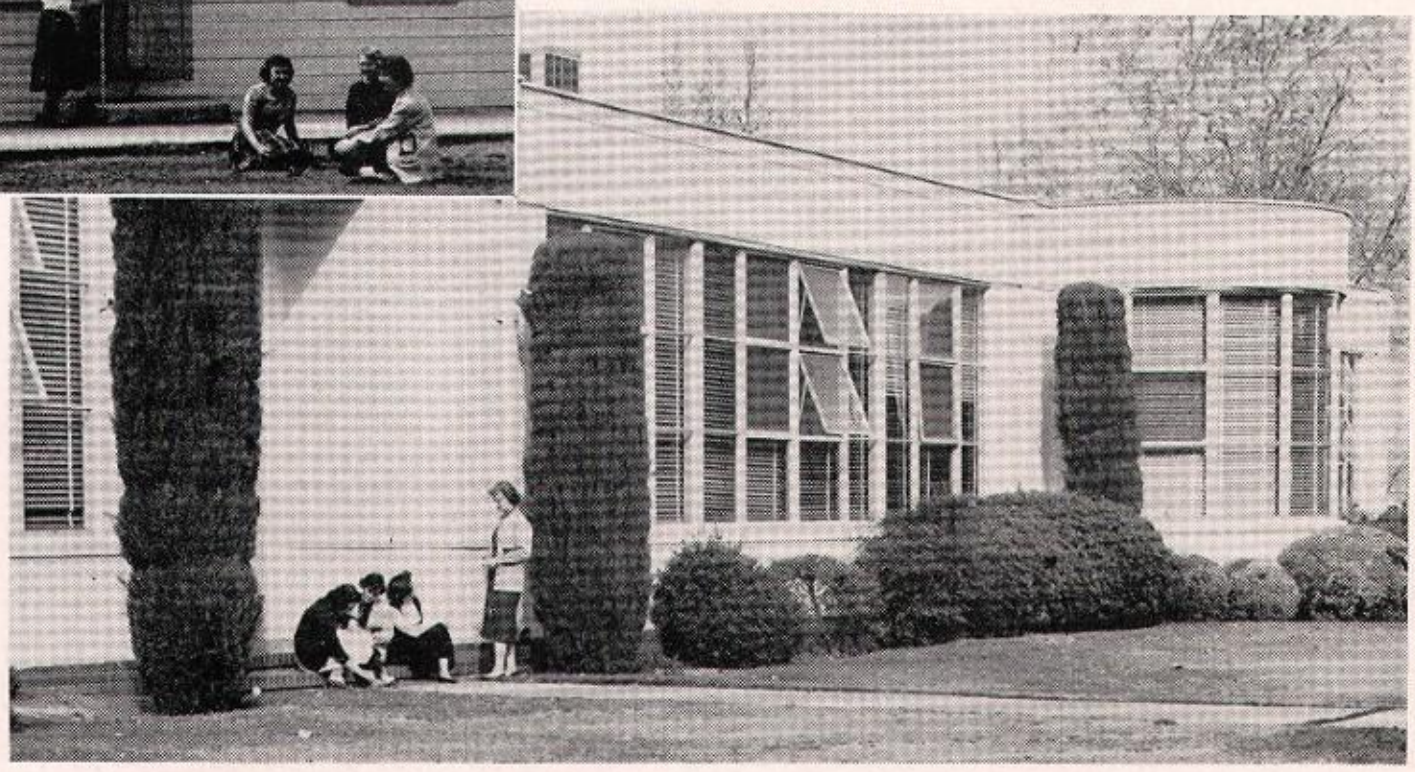
The Delano High auditorium, above, is where the students hold their assemblies, plays and programs. On the right side of the building are the cafeteria and choir room.

Due to the loss of the old Main Building, a temporary administration office was erected, called the "hut."

Builders Learn

On our campus tour the auditorium is impressive with its size and looks. The administration building is the hub of our school activities. A temporary building, it houses some of the important planners in our year building. The commercial building contains the machines and equipment needed for homemaking and business.



The building, above, constructed in 1937 con tains all classes concerning homemaking and business education. This year new equipment was obtained for students to use in the Commercial Building.

The Delano Memorial Stadium, seating 4,000, provides for football games, school carnivals and graduation ceremonies.

Trades Here

Soon the heat will be forgotten in the cool waters of Delano's new swimming pool, a joint community-school project which began this spring. Another sport, football, provided thrills for the town in the Delano bowl last season. Even the girls graced the grid with a game.

The gymnasium, constructed in 1929, still bears up under daily use by energetic students.

Upper right shows the construction of the new swimming pool. Below stands the school gym.

Pictured above, the maintenance men are hard at work unloading equipment for their repair work to be done around school.

Below is the Shop Building which is located in the center of the campus near the quad.

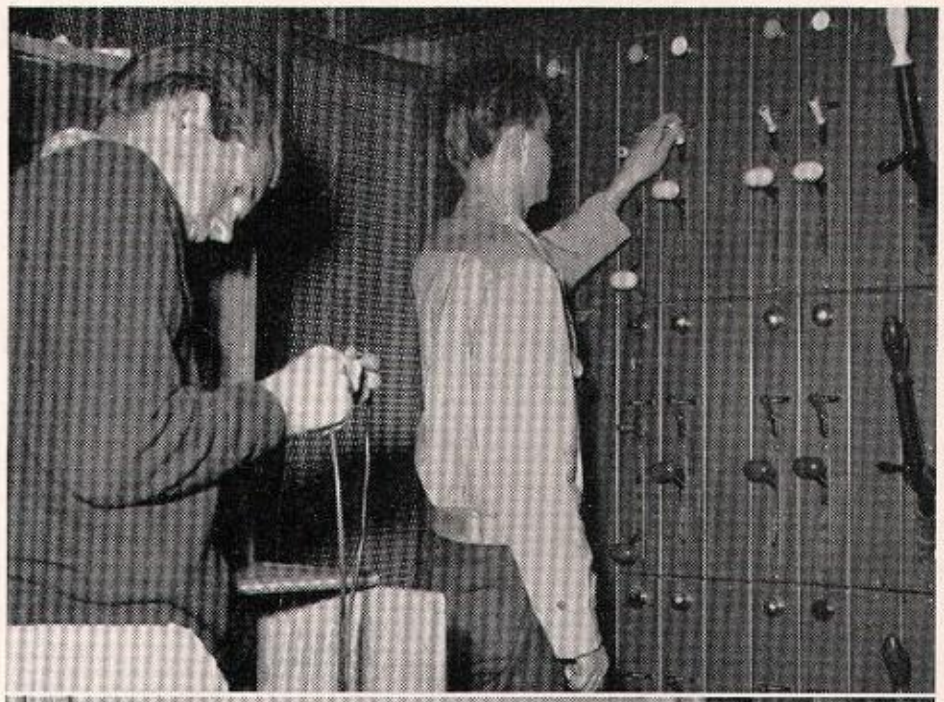
Buildings

Scatter Classes

The temporary buildings, now completed, provide adequate classrooms for the expanding enrollment.

Near the temporaries, maintenance men spend busy hours in their shops, repairing and building to keep things running smoothly. Another shop building is the one in which Delano boys learn the mysteries of motors, wood work, and mechanical drawing. Car repair work is done and beautiful tables and cedar chests are turned out by the mechanically minded boys.

The library building with its well-lighted, modern classrooms and large library is a gathering spot for students. Housing books on every subject, the library maintains a study hall as well as regular classes.



Above, right, is the control booth on the stage of the spacious auditorium. Below, library facilities are in use by students.

Containing a large library and 13 academic classrooms is the library building. It is used for night classes which benefit parents as well as the regular students.

Superintendent H. R. Olson looks over drawings of Delano High's ever expanding campus.

Added to the long list of responsibilities and positions of Mr. H. R. Olson, Delano Superintendent, is the well-deserved office of President of District 12 of the California Association of Secondary Administrators.

Mr. Olson with the Board of Trustees made another step in the expansion program of the school by approving the building of a swimming pool jointly with the community. The construction began in March.

A business manager, Mr. Paterson, was added to Mr. Olson's staff to organize and centralize the school finances. Departmental needs are handled speedily and efficiently now through this new system.

Even now plans are being discussed by Mr. Olson and the board for next year's improvements and expansion.

es, Activities

Miss Morey and Mr. Della, girls' and boys' counselors, have had a busy year. Registration, testing and health programs fall in with handling scholarships in their lists of duties. Outside activities brought in through their department included WAC and WAVE counselors speaking to the senior girls, as well as National Guard officers discussing their futures with the senior boys. Representative speakers also visited from Whittier, Redlands, C.O.S. and Bakersfield Colleges. During the time, Mr. Frederick hasn't been exactly idle with his attendance and discipline problems.

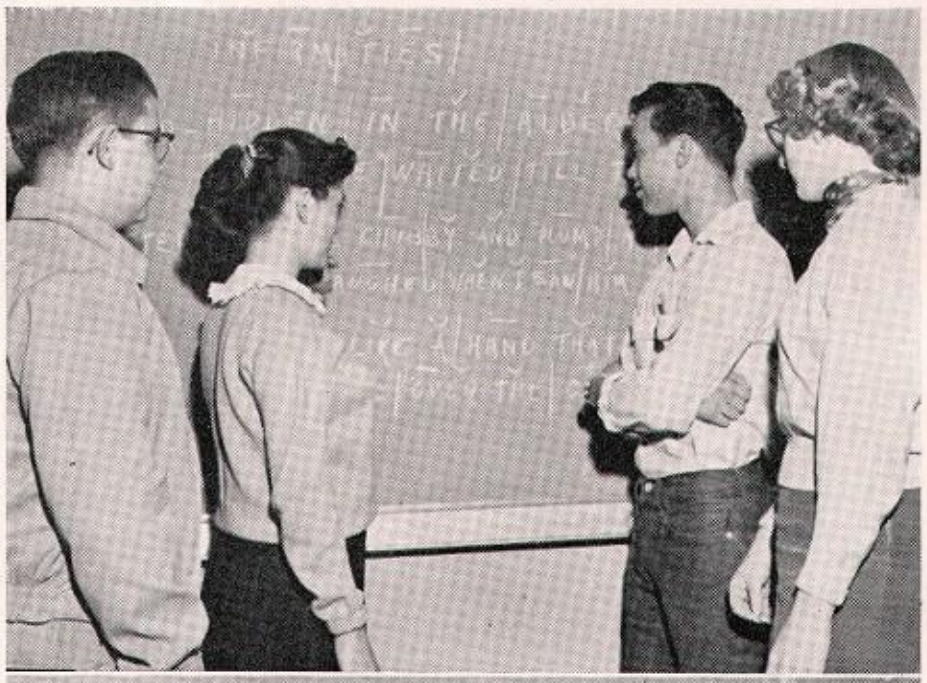
Left, one of Miss Morey's many duties as girls' counselor is helping girls decide their future careers.

English teachers, left, are Mr. Boehm, English I, III, IV, and Drama; Mrs. Hamilton, English II; Mrs. Abramson, English II and DEL-ANO; Mrs. Kaiser, remedial reading; Mr. Schediwy, English I, Leadership, and Speech; Mr. Possley, English I.

English, Art, Language



The English Department under the guidance of Mrs. Hamilton, gained four new teachers this year in the areas of Speech, Drama, Journalism, and English I.

Sophomores and Freshmen battled their way through the problems of grammar and the secrets of the dictionary. Mr. Schediwy initiated a 5 week speech course for English I and II.

Third and fourth year English classes delved into the meter of poetry and the final steps of high school English before heading for the college freshmen brand of English.

The dictionary provides a challenge to the sophomores in Mrs. Hamilton's English class.

Right, Miss Hoster handles the art work this year; Mr. Hayden directs the choir and glee clubs; Mr. Peck handles crafts; Mr. Ritchey conducts band and orchestra.

Enrich Studies

Returning to resume her art duties this year, Miss Hoster shared the art department with Mr. Peck who handled the Arts and Crafts classes.

The publication of the LIVE WIRE was again directed by Miss Salber, and the bi-monthly edition of the paper provided a special Wednesday treat for students.

In the language department a foreign movie series was organized by Mr. Lo Re and his classes. It proved such a success, there are tentative plans for a similar series next year.

Mrs. Barnes had her hands full with the direction of the library and the training of library assistants.

A few suggestions are given by Miss Hoster to her art students on a current art project.

Learning through speaking and listening is the idea in Mr. Armendariz' Spanish class, as the recorder captures the student's voice.

Below are Miss Salber, LIVE WIRE, English I; Mrs. Barnes, Librarian; Mr. Armendariz, Spanish I; Mr. Lo Re, Spanish II, III, French.

The giving of reports is a tough job, but is done often by the students in U. S. History classes.

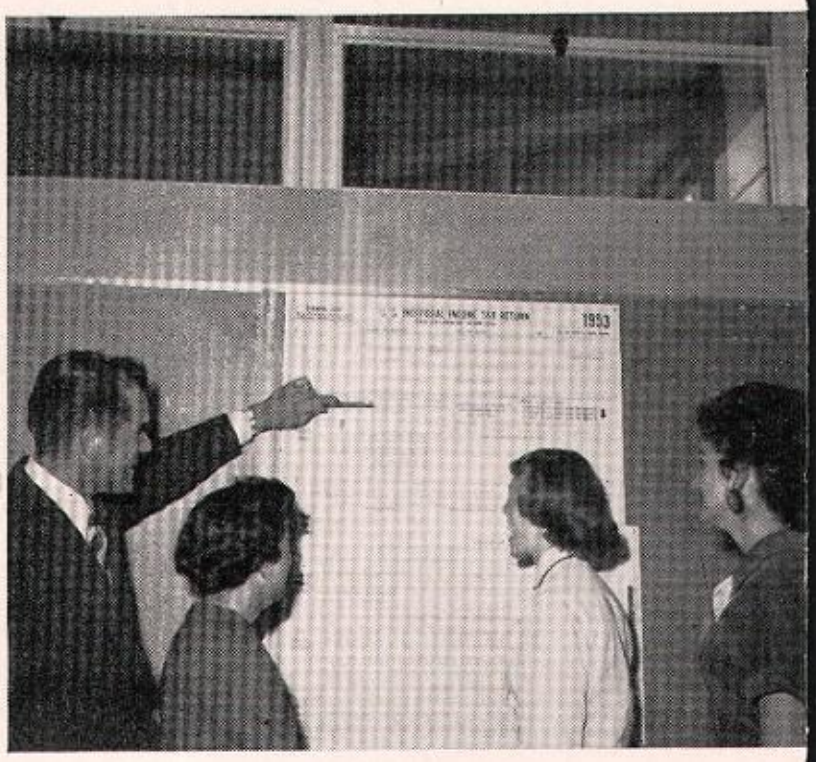
Introduction, World Culture, U. S. History, and Senior Problems are taught in the social studies department under the direction of Mr. Hickok and six other teachers. Since all students in school take social studies, these seven teachers are kept quite busy.

Social dancing and driver education, two important parts of Introduction classes, give the freshmen some uneasy moments.

In World Culture, sophomores travel to other lands via textbooks, maps, and movies.

"We the People—" are familiar words to the juniors who find U. S. History surprisingly interesting at times.

And the seniors learn a great deal of what to expect and what is expected of them as independent citizens.



Income Tax problems? Not these kids. They are learning how it's done in Senior Problems classes.

Members of the social studies department are Mr. Beck, Introduction; Mr. Morgan, Introduction; Mr. Abramson, U. S. History; Mr. Armstrong, U. S. History, World Culture; Mr. Hickok, U. S. History, Senior Problems; Mr. Annand, U. S. History, Senior Problems; Mr. Ball, U. S. History, World Culture.

s Take Math;

cial Studies

Science teachers, above, are Mr. Butts, biology, zoology; Mr. Johnson, general science; Mr. Harsh, general science; Mr. Dyer, chemistry, physics.

Boys in Mr. Butts' zoology classes are studying the many different birds and what makes them tick.

What kind of a bug is this? Who knows the formula for the combination of these two chemicals? What is the volume of this cylinder? These and similar questions arise in the science classes of Mr. Harsh, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Butts, and Mr. Dyer.

Taxidermy students in Mr. Butts' classes turned out some very realistic animal reproductions. Their skillful work almost gave the animals life again. In Chemistry, the annual "sulphur bombs" were produced in spite of protests from everyone.

In the math department, Mr. Root, Mr. De Fraga, and Mr. Wong tried to teach their students the practical everyday use of math out of the maze of rules and equations.

Students in Mr. Root's math classes learn the everyday practical use of math from charts.

Math teachers below are Mr. Root, algebra, geometry, general math; Mr. DeFraga, algebra, and solid geometry; Mr. Wong, general math.

Boys Prefer

Humming with activity, the shop buildings saw a lot of constructive production this year.

Many boys repaired their own cars as well as those of friends, as part of the Auto Shop classes. Engines became as familiar as textbooks when boys studied their parts.

In the Wood Shop classes, skilled carpenters produced modern tables and fine cedar chests.

Welding presented a challenge in Metal Shop until plenty of practice and pieces of melted metal were left behind.

Future architects and draftsmen studied Mechanical Drawing and developed precision and accuracy.

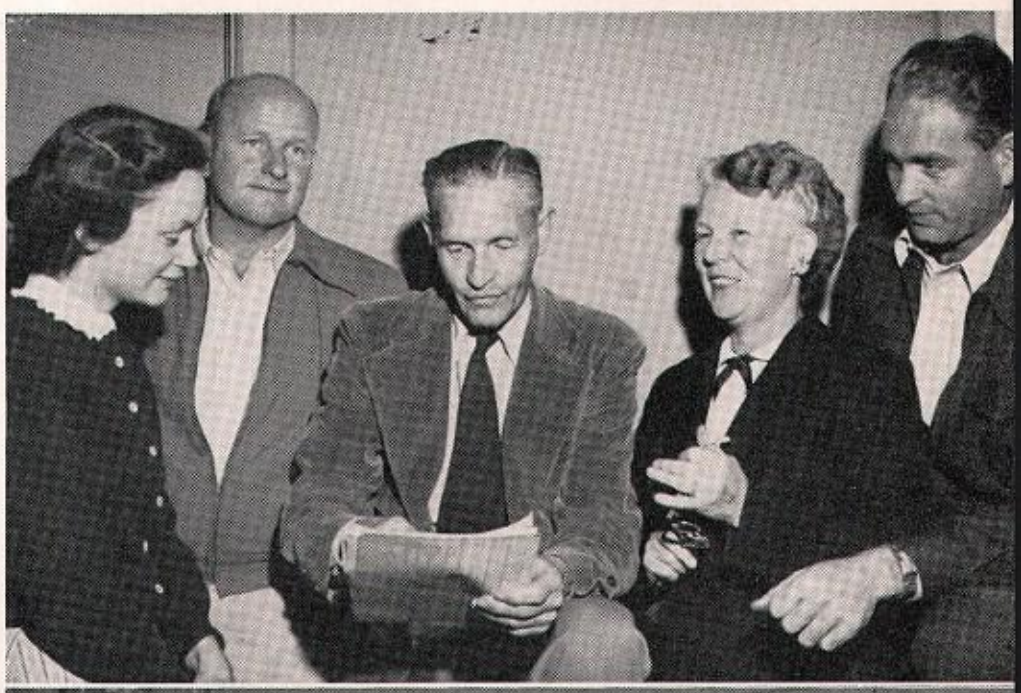
Evenings the doors to both shops were opened for adults and students to try their skill or complete assignments.

Boys learn to run engines and machines of all kinds in the shop class of Mr. Hamilton.

Mr. Powell, shown below, is helping his students in a tough mechanical drawing problem.

Shop; Girls, Homemaking

Ag. and Homemaking teachers, right, are Miss Sayles, Mr. Maxson, Mr. Cazaly, Mrs. Abbey, Mr. Daly.



Homemakers of the future sewed and cooked their way through the year.

In the sewing department, Miss Sayles gave her girls help in sewing spring styles, color and style choices, and the making of interesting lampshades.

Mrs. Abbey and her cooking classes prepared and served two delicious dinners for the faculty during the year.

On the farm, the Ag boys readied their animals for judging in the Harvest Holidays last fall, and again this April.

The many contests, such as the cotton picking contest, sponsored by local organizations tempted many of the Ag boys to try their skill.

Above, homemaking girls are learning the art of giving baby a bath.

Ever try to calm a wild bull? Well, these Ag boys can tell you it's not easy.

Business, PE A
Many Skills

It's dictation time for these senior girls.

Business education teachers standing are Mr. Coover, Business English, Typing; Mr. Brooding, Bookkeeping, Everyday Business; Miss Pezzuti, Shorthand, Office Practice; Miss Bender, Typing, Business English, Everyday Business.

The use of the new dictaphone machines is being taught to students of business by Miss Pezzuti.

From the sound of clicking typewriters, it is easy to find the commercial building, the home of all business classes. There students learn every skill necessary to enter the world of business.

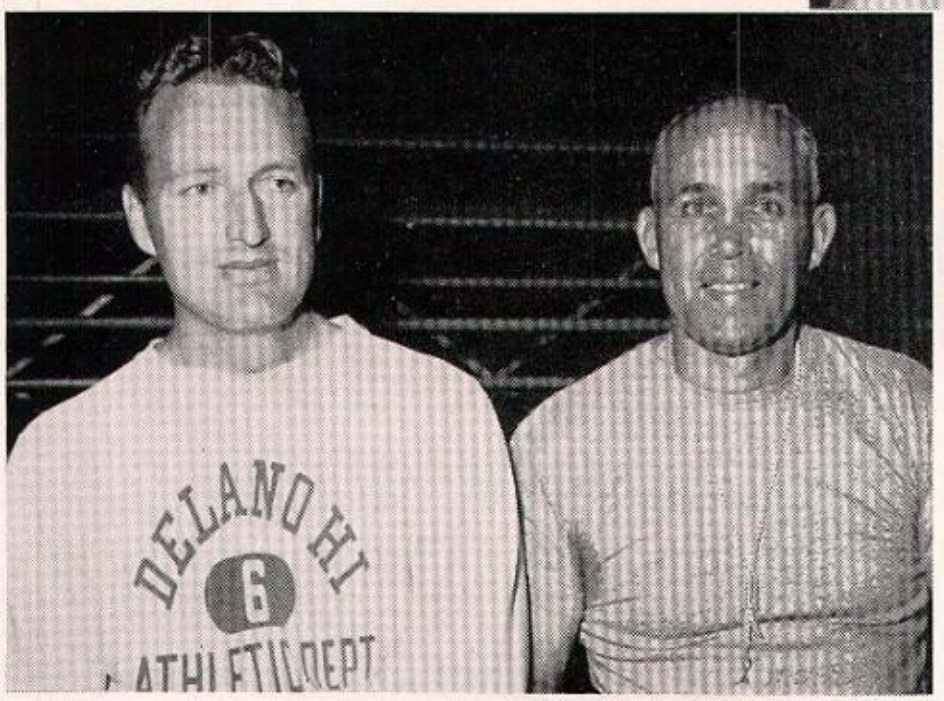
Typing records are set by many of the students. A new addition for use with the typewriter is a dictaphone machine with earphones.

Keeping the debits and credits straight is a job for the bookkeeping students in balancing their books.

It's a problem sometimes to read shorthand notes after dictation, but that's all a part of learning to keep up in an occupation where one can't waste time.

dvisors Teach
o Classes

The girls' physical education instructors are Miss Hunting, Miss Jenkins, Mrs. Corey.



Mr. Daniels, Mr. Allen, and Mr. Maxwell, not pictured, are the boys' physical education instructors.

Aside from the all-school competitive sports, the regular PE classes held every period are carrying on their own competitive activities within and among classes.

With the absence of Mr. Maxwell, football, basketball, track, and baseball were handled by Mr. Daniels and Mr. Allen who were kept pretty busy. They kept the games running smoothly and directed many exciting ones.

In the feminine side of the gym, the girls played badminton as well as speed-a-way, basketball, and soft ball.

PE classes not only teach students the methods of sports but also the rules of conduct for good sportsmanship.

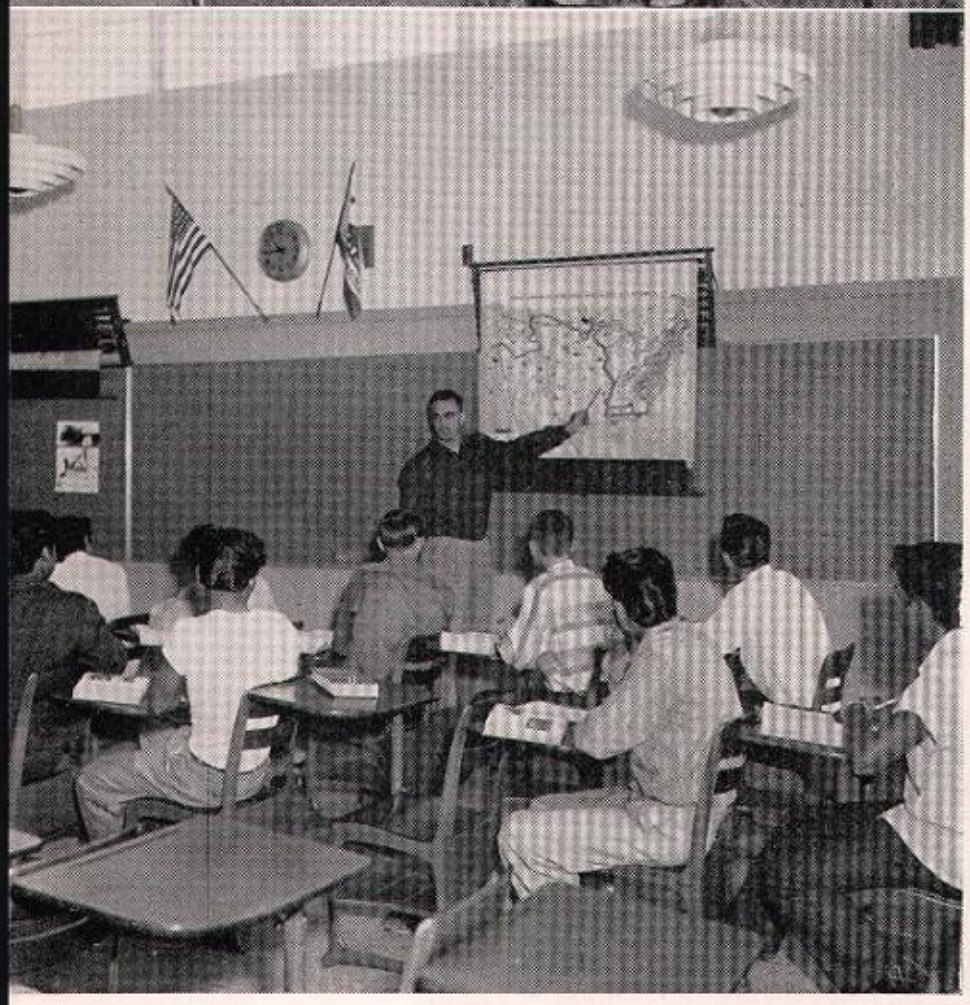
Ceramics is a popular class with Mr. Peck helping out the artists.



Continuation school is held every Saturday morning. Here Mr. Della is guiding a map study.

The Delano band journeys to Long Beach to enter the annual band parade.

Not All Classe

The girls in homemaking classes repair torn football jerseys for the athletic department.

Frosh take social dancing as part of their required course in Intro.

Mean Work

Smoothing the feathers on the bird, these two boys finish up a very realistic taxidermy job.

Spring candidates for student body offices make a tape recording to be played over the radio.

Through the earphones come the words in Spanish or French. Now, what do they mean?

Each bus and driver is lined up waiting for that signal to start rolling.

Students coming in pause to chat with fellow riders.

Buses Roll

At 3:55 every day the buses roll and over half of Delano's students are transported to their homes in various places in and around Delano.

Their smoothly running schedule, directed by Mr. Abbey, keeps the drivers on their toes, while a smoothly run garage keeps the buses in top repair.

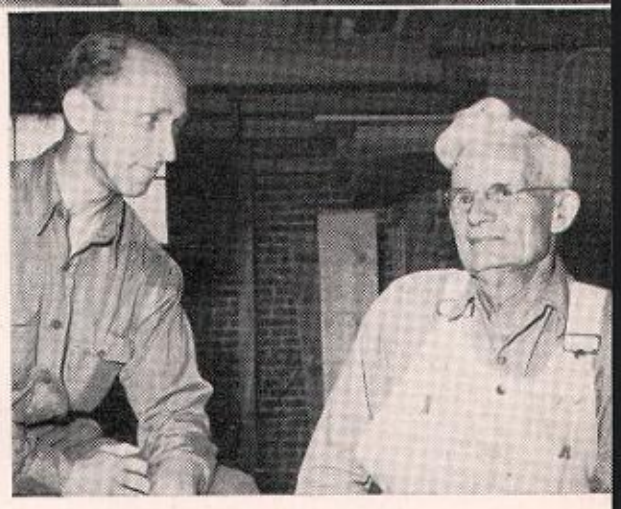
Maintenance men Eoff, Ragsdale, Pevyhouse and Howard wait for assignments to begin work.



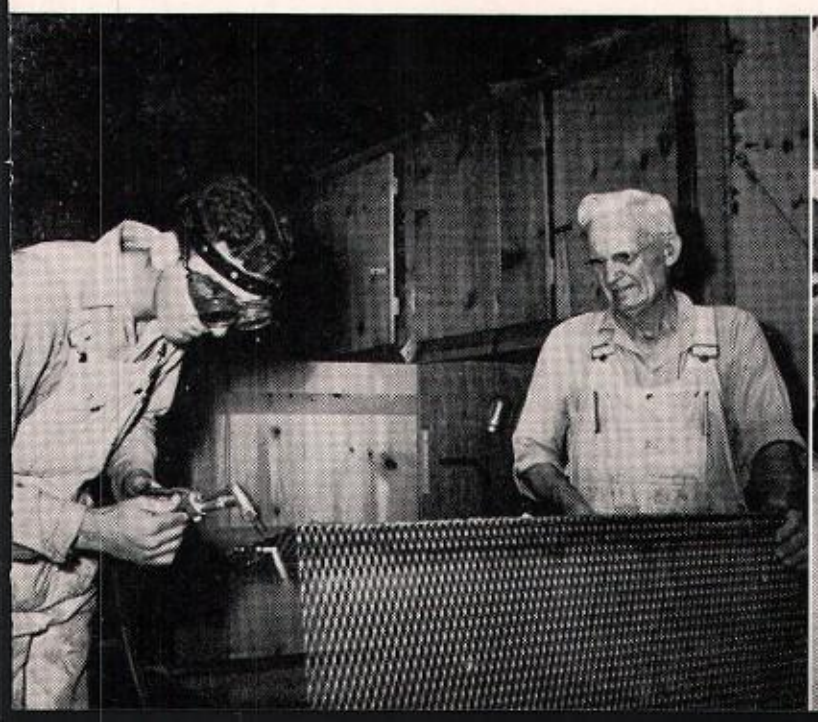
Mr. Penrod and Mr. Holland try to keep their men happy—and busy.

Grounds, Repairs Done

An efficiently cared for school is the description of Delano and the credit is given to the Custodial and Maintenance staffs headed by Mr. Penrod and Mr. Holland.

Always ready to help or make needed repairs, these men are an important part of the school's activities.

Mr. Holland supervises the welding job on a heater guard.



Custodians, below, are Isley, Parker, Laguna, Klusmire, Porter, Hudgins, Savage, Laudermilk, Sellers.

Cafeteria, Office

Students enjoy and appreciate new outside eating area, especially during hot months.

A crowded cafeteria every day is one proof that the food served is good.

Under the direction of Mrs. Slankard and her eight assistants, about half of the student body is fed in three shifts.

An outside eating area provides lighter meals and tables for warmer weather.

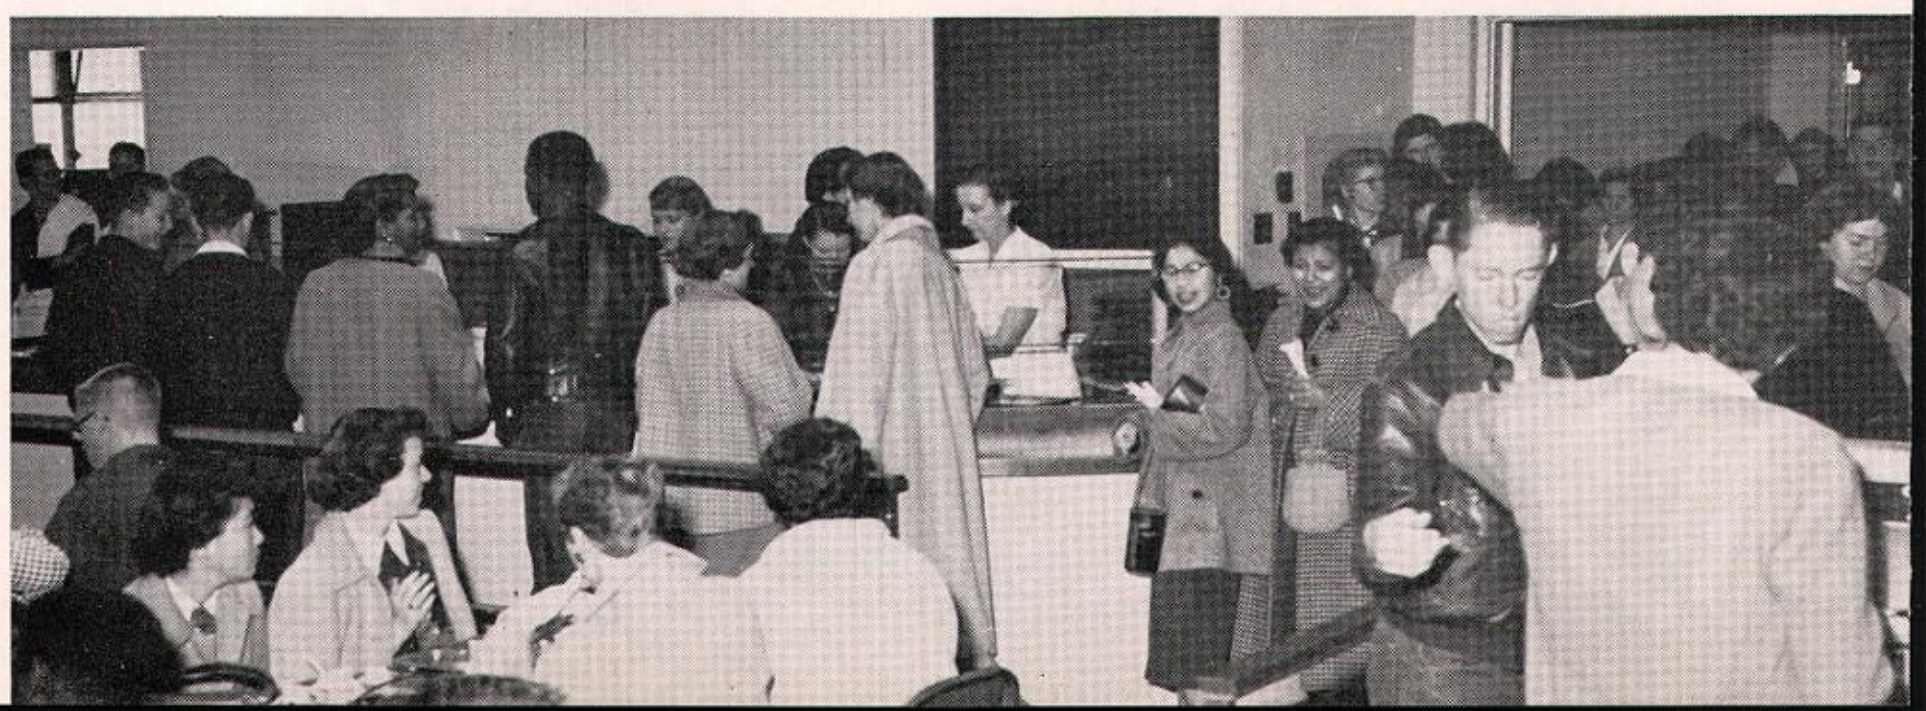
Students don't mind waiting in line for their plate when the food is sure to be delicious.



Smoothly Run

At the right is our new Business Manager, Mr. Paterson.

This year brought Mr. Paterson to Delano as business manager. Creating the office, Mr. Paterson has proved its worth in the new efficiency with which financial needs are handled for the various departments.

Delano also lost an old friend, Mrs. Peg Vogt, who was replaced in the business office by Miss Charlotte Cederberg.

Smiling and cheerful, Miss Frances Shields again was the school nurse and gave of her time to ailing students.

There are no worries about equipment when Gus Metz is around to check it and keep it in working order.

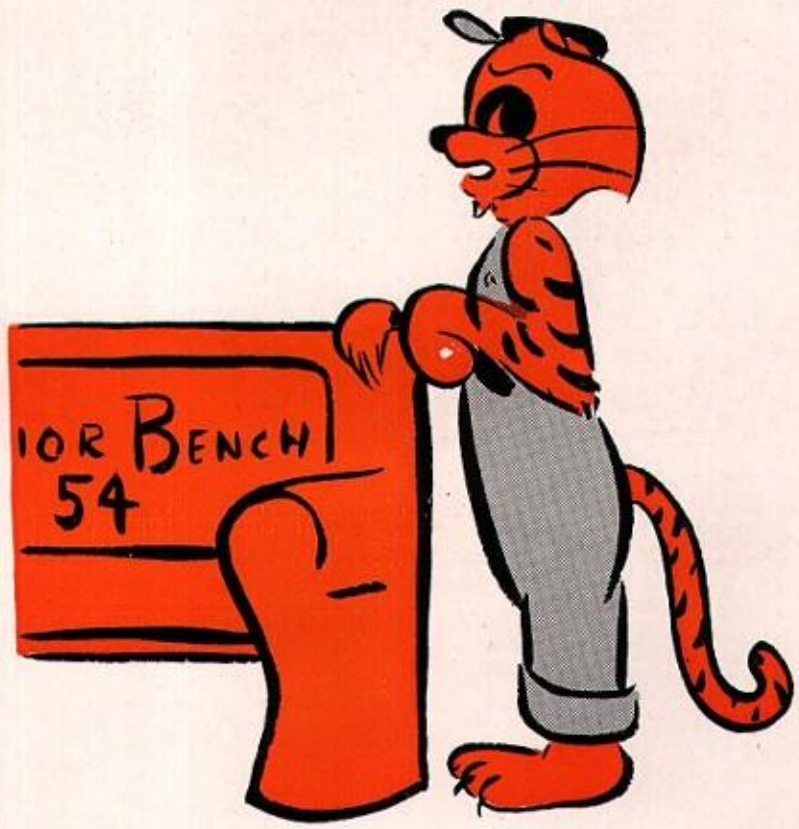
THE BUILDERS



Seniors Lead in Building Year

Voted by their classmates to lead the class of '54 were Adele Salazar, Gary Girard, Jerva Winn, representatives; Thora Jo Thomas, yell leader; Judy Ingram, secretary; Bob Brown, vice-president; President Creth Rice; Advisor Annand.

It's been a wonderful whirl—this senior year! On December 4, the seniors presented their annual play. This year it was a mystery, "The Night of January 16th," under the direction of Mr. Boehm. Under the leadership of President Creth Rice, the senior class, totaling 186, headed for the wonderful day of Graduation, June 9.

In the meantime, the kids in the lime-colored sweaters didn't lose time looking for entertainment. A party was held in the cafeteria April 6, to add to a full and quickly moving year. Big events planned for the end of the year were the annual Junior-Senior Prom, the Senior Breakfast, and Senior Ditch Day, celebrated by a picnic-outing.

Then came days of practice and marching to the tune of Pomp and Circumstance, and finally, the day which meant the end of an important year for all seniors.

Late one night the seniors ganged together to paint the senior bench the same color as their senior sweaters.

Assemblyman Pat Kelley answers questions of the seniors after addressing them on how the state legislature is run.

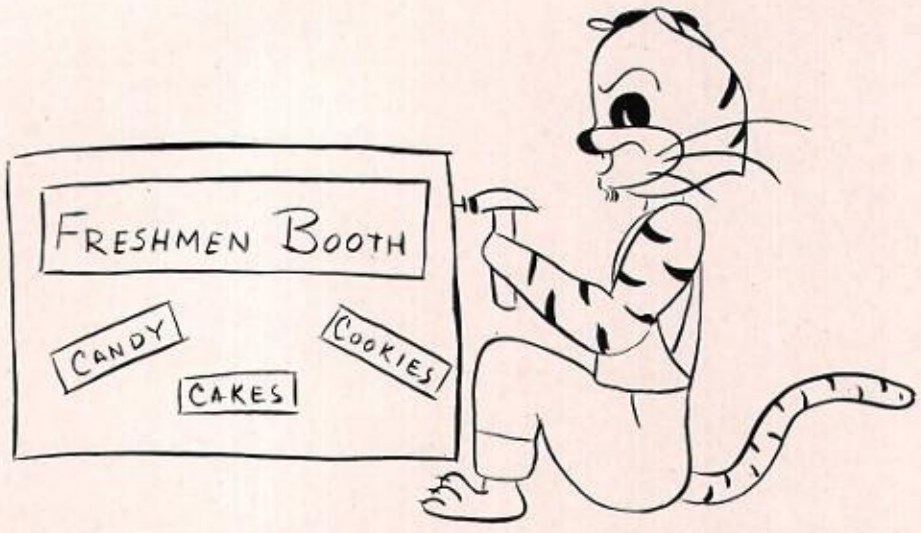
Scared Frosh Dig Right In



Despite their newness, the freshmen dug right in to establish their places at Delano.

Under the leadership of Prexy Diane Scott, the freshmen with the sophomores gave a frosh-soph party March 5 which was the biggest and best ever held.

On April 9, the frosh sponsored an all-school party which was a big success, and they held one for their own class members April 23.

Next year these "sophomores" will be able to call someone else frosh.

Left, Bill Stewart presided over the student body during the first semester. Acting as student body president during the second semester was Don Higgins, right.

Leaders Guide Organizations

The Student Council is the organization leading all school organizations. Everyone may belong and be active through the purchase of a student body card.

This year the council continued the use of last year's budget system in which it received a 25 per cent rebate to council funds from all student body activities.

Biggest event for the council was their playing host to the Kern County Association of Student Representatives April 9.

The governing officers consist of two sets. The first semester leaders elected last spring were Bill Stewart, president; Henry Ruff, vice-president; Pat Tetrault, secretary; Betty Jo Sparks, yell leader. At the mid-term, officers elected were Don Higgins, president, Beverly Haberstich, vice-president; Judy Ingram, secretary; Elaine Yukawa, yell leader.

Tiger Crew in Third Place

This San Joaquin Memorial man doesn't know where to go with Snead, Prather and Dempsey almost on him.

Losing some close ball games, the Delano Tigers finished the 1953 grid season with four wins, four defeats, and one tie. In league play Coach Ray Frederick's squad had two wins against three losses.

Frederick was assisted by Dan Della, Nathan Johnson, and Gene Beck.

In the opener the Tigers scored in the first period, and staved off Hanford marches before Hanford scored on a short pass in the last three seconds for a 6-6 tie.

A 19-yard pass from Bob Prather to Scott Westbrook climaxed an 82 yard march as Delano scored with less than two minutes remaining to edge Wasco 6-0.

Stopping a pair of drives inside the 10-yard stripe, the Tigers spilled a big, dangerous San Joaquin Memorial eleven 13-0.

Delano's defense fell apart in the fourth quarter as Taft came from a 21-0 third quarter deficit to a 27-21 win. Taft

In the second meeting in history Bakersfield drove nearly 100 yards for the winning TD to beat a spirited Tiger team 20-14. Creth Rice's 93-yard kick-off return brought Delano from behind for a short lived 14-13 lead in the third stanza.

Porterville recovered a fumbled punt on the Delano 6 in the last quarter, then scored to squeeze by Delano 14-7.

Fairly easy victories over Hanford 25-0 and Wasco 14-0 opened the season. Delano ran wild for a 31-0 win over San Joaquin Memorial.

Delano spanked Taft 24-7 in the league opener, but Taft countered on an 85 yard kick-off return to snap Delano's shutout string at seven games.

Six fumbles plus penalties kept Delano from a score until the Bengals tallied in the fourth quarter to down Tulare 6-0. Delano slaughtered Arvin 26-0.

Fumbles set up Delano's touchdowns in a 13-6 win over EB in the season's toughest encounter.

Joe Aguilar scored all the TD's in a 20-7 win over Bakersfield. Late in the third stanza Aguilar squirted 83 yards to paydirt to earn Delano a 12-6 win over Porterville in the final game.

Hoop Season Finds Delano Fiv

Diaz jumps as Flyg is in position, and Brown comes up behind.

Deadlocked for the cellar with Arvin was the story of Delano's Tigers 1953-54 basketball season. Coach Gene Daniels five finished with a league record of 3 wins and 9 defeats and a practice mark of 6 victories and 3 losses.

The Tigers won their first 6 out of 8 games including the Visalia tournament for a good practice mark. Sparked by high scoring Bob Brown, Delano racked up victories in three of their first five starts.

Delano finished up with 8 straight losses. The final defeat was at the hands of East Bakersfield in a hustling ball game on the Delano court.

Brown, Rice, Smith, Diaz, Flyg, Prather, and Knox saw most of the action for the Tiger quintet. Delano opened the season with only two players with a little varsity experience.

Brown, the league's second top scorer, was chosen on the all-league second team with Rice and Diaz winning honorable mention. Bakersfield won the league and valley championship.

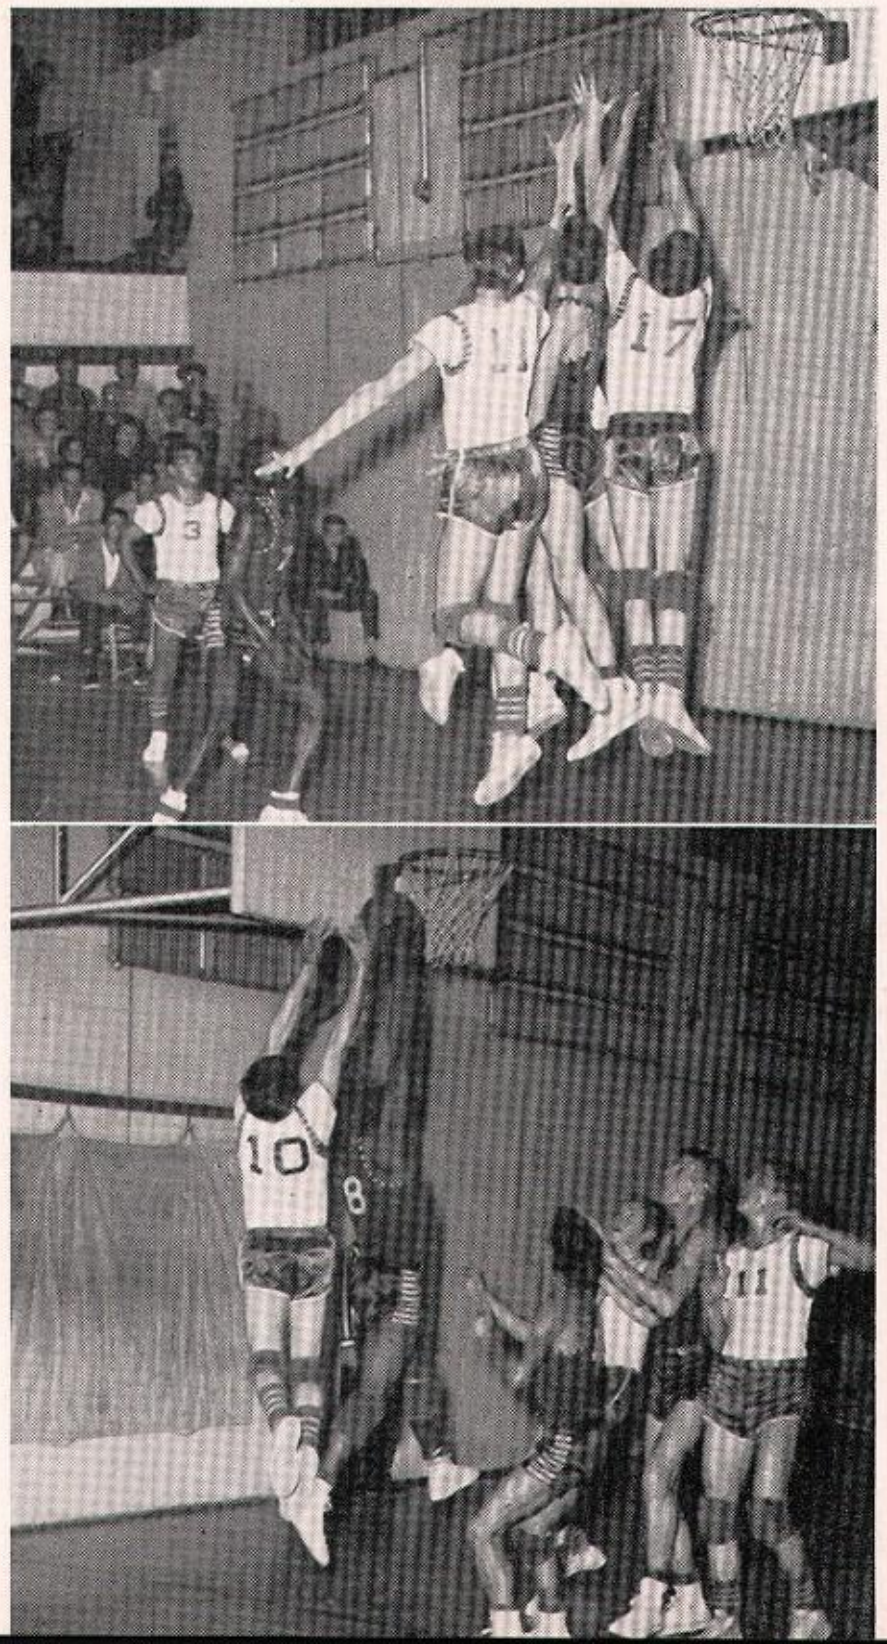
Bengal Hoop Champs in 5th Place



Falling from their championship status of last year, the Delano Bengal hoop team wound up the basketball campaign in a tie for fifth place in the South Yosemite League.

Delano won 6 practice tilts and lost 1, but Delano's loop mark was 3 victories against 9 defeats. Coach Earl Maxwell handled the team through the first two league games, but after Maxwell went to the hospital Coach Don Harsh took over coaching duties.

Delano won three games, beating Taft, Porterville, and Bakersfield once each. The victory over Bakersfield, which ended one game out of first place, was the Bengals sweetest victory. The B quintet was unstoppable in the Bakersfield contest.

Six veterans played on the B team, but none of the players were starters on last year's team.

The quintet used for most of the Bengal games included Aguilar, Anderson, Stewart, Taggart, and Phelps. Aguilar topped the scoring for the year with 78 points in practice games and 94 in league play.

The Bengal five used a fast break style of play most of the season, and substituted frequently. Two seniors will be gone from the squad.

East Bakersfield won the B league title on the margin of Delano's win over second place Bakersfield. EB also won the valley title.

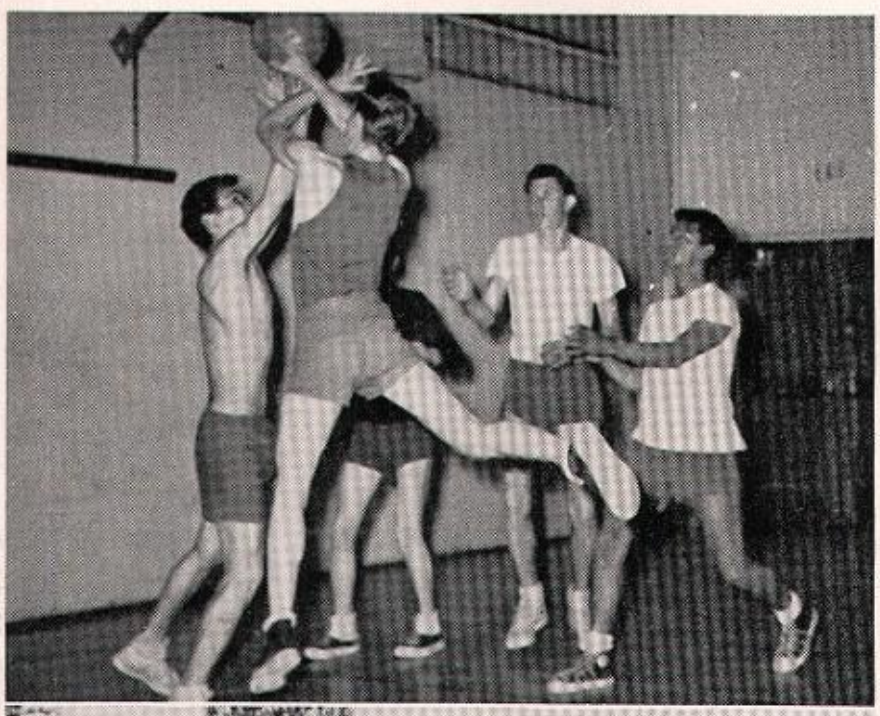
PE Boys in Intramural Program



A busy schedule of intramural sports was planned by Mr. Allen, coach.

Teams representing the winning basketball squads in each PE period came together in January for the all-school finals. Five teams took part, and period one was winner over period two.

In March, the paddle tennis competition was opened to all boys in school; the games were played at noon time on regular tennis courts.

The first tournament was won by Roger Andreas and Delbert Lopez; the second was won by frosh Butch Andreas and soph Coy Perigo, and junior Dick Wilson and senior Dennis Franks.

Softball play-offs were held in May for all the upper classmen. All PE periods came together to determine the school champs.

Delano holds a one game loop lead with league tilts remaining with Tulare, EB, Bakersfield, and Arvin.

In the Delano Lions Club baseball tourney Delano swept to the title with wins over Selma, Washington Union of Fresno, Visalia, and Bakersfield. Delano's tourney win was their fourth in the 11 year history and their first since 1950. EB beat Porterville for the consolation.

Alvarado, Espitia, Dempsey, Eskew, and Williams are the leading hitters to date. Cortez and Penrod do most of the pitching.

Tiger, Kitten Spik

Tiger and Kitten spikesters dominated South Yosemite League dual meets by winning the A and C dual meet championships.

Coach Dan Della's A and C squads won dual meets from Porterville, Bakersfield, Tulare, EB, Arvin, and Taft. The B's won four, lost two.

In the Tulare Relays Delano was second in the A and C classes with Delano C's winning the Fresno Carnival and A and B squads taking thirds. Delano won the Tiger and Kitten divisions and the sweepstakes at the Kern Relays.

In late track meets last year, Delano won the sweepstakes and A class at the Tulare Relays; the Varsity won the league meet with B and C teams third; Delano won their West Coast Relays; and varsity spikesters won the division meet.

Delano was second to Manual Arts of Los Angeles in the state meet. Leamon King won the 100 and 220, Creth Rice was fifth in the 880, and Delano's relay team was fifth in the state meet at Fresno.

Sprinter Leamon King, runner and hurdler Creth Rice, discus man Leo Glass, and shotputter Bill Wade have been Tiger stand-outs.

In February Dick Wilson played an outstanding game against John DeVincenzo. Dick won 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Delano won their first league game, 3-1 against Arvin in the wind and rain.

Early in April Delano lost to Bakersfield, 4-0.

Dick Wilson played an outstanding game against Everett LaRue of Tulare, winning all 3 matches 8-10, 6-0, 6-0. Also outstanding were the doubles won by Benny Rose and Glen Cotton, 7-5, 2-6, 7-5, over Walter Emker and Dwight Bryant of Tulare.

Trail League

The girls' tennis team has had a bad break this year. The team has been a green one with only one girl left from last year's team, Barbara Blair.

The girls have won only two practice games against McFarland. Miss Hunting, advisor, predicts that her team will be strong next year, because she is only losing two girls.

The outstanding game was with McFarland. The girls' doubles, champs, Carol Mazza and Barbara Wankum, defeated McFarland's doubles two out of three games.
